Sunset In The Field

Sunset in the Field is a small, beautiful Win 7 theme dedicated to one magnificent time of day: the sunset. Features: Simple yet elegant look Full system integration Customizable main area Set time and date Small footprint Fully customizable Really easy to use Customizable shortcut menu Customizable shortcuts area Simple, no frills, just sunset Full color control over the entire theme Extensive documentation Requirements: My definitions of minimal and basic software requirements are (in reverse order): I run this setup on a Pentium 4 / 1GHz and 2GB of RAM. If you are having trouble with it on your system or the requirements are a little bit lower than this, check out the complete documentation and get in touch with me. . Note: Some colors used in the main area can not be changed, because the theme is designed to work with Microsoft's fixed colors and layout. License: Visit my website for further information about how to use the theme Software required: Theme can be installed using the Microsoft Installer, the following files are needed for the theme to work properly and look great: 1. msixec.exe 2. main.msi 3. msixec.manifest Additional notes: It is recommended to install this theme on a fresh Windows Vista or Windows 7 installation. This theme does not work with Windows XP. In my opinion, there is no need to create a separate shortcut for this theme. Simply drag it to your Desktop and enjoy your new sunset (or day) every morning. Credits: This theme is based on the work of Lewis Wyse Pryce and is modified and improved by Mene Dvorscak for Ambience Design. Thanks for the great work! ## What's New In Sunset In The Field?

Sunset in the Field is a simple and peaceful Win7 theme that features a nice orange sunset on the desktop, which gently change to pink, and all the icons in the theme also has a nice sunset texture. Sunset in the Field brings you a relaxed atmosphere in the new year. The theme is also useful for those who have a small and light-weight computer, such as netbooks, as well as for gamers and families who love playing games. Features: - 25 high-resolution icons, and 10 different wallpapers. - Notepad, Calculator, and the Browser all have beautiful sunset graphics. - Multilanguage support, with English, French, German, and Russian language packs included. - PCManFM-FM is the file manager used by this theme. - Own control panel for installing other themes and setting various settings. - Can be customized using the inbuilt theme options. - It is light-weight, with minimum resource consumption. - Very easy to customize with the integrated theme options. - Multilanguage support. - Can be customized using the inbuilt theme options. - The theme is also useful for those who have a small and light-weight computer, such as netbooks, as well as for gamers and families who love playing games. As it was mentioned before, this is one of my favourites. It just might be my most beautiful one (sorry, that's the effect of the icons :)). But the color scheme just works for me. It's perfect. Great time for a change. I love the button customization feature and the way they utilize the desktop space. I like the option to change the icons to blue, or go full graphic. Very professional looking, nicely rendered, and the icons and text are great. It's just a look I would definitely love to have on my computer. Thanks. P.S. Just one thing though, in the options list you have the "look" menu set to "windows" and also "win7". The Look menu is the one where you choose the time of the day and the textures. Okay. So I am a *really* newbie at this. I have downloaded and installed all the prerequisites, and I am using a Windows 7 Starter Edition 32 bit. Is there any special settings that I need to change to change the look and feel of the theme? I don't see any icons that are dark blue. Some of the wallpapers look cool, but all I see are the same three (or four). Am I supposed to change something somewhere? Is there any special settings that I need to change to change the look and feel of the theme? I don't see any icons that are dark blue. Some of the wallpapers look cool, but all I see are the same three (or four)
